The Grounds

The grounds of Gravenhunger are wild, dramatic and full of charm. As you make your way to Gravenhunger manor, the authentic, antique, copper gates sing a song of tranquillity. Surrounding the house, you will find a wild garden, which any child could enjoy for days, the twirling paths lead to secrets, unforgotten and untold.

The Attic

High above the rest of the house lies the attic, a dusty but fascinating room, currently used for storage. But it can be used for other things:

another bedroom, a gaming room, or a place for your imagination to run wild and be free. And, the breathtaking, tranquil, surreal picturesque view, pictures the river as a shimmering, shining blue ribbon.

The Inside of the Manor

In the manor, you shall find a secret lab for experiments, en-suits for the 4 bedrooms and a kitchen large enough for a dining room and parties.

There is also a place to add a lift. There is a large, grand, echoing, excellent, exceptional entrance hall with fancy flagstone walls and floors. Beside the wall, there are hand-carved wooden staircases ready to take you on a journey through the maze. If you add a lift, you could rest your legs. In the dark cellar, it makes the Victorian times come to life.

Gravenhunger estate is a remarkable place where every path, room and corner feels alive. Also, the beach offers a great opportunity to have fun. So, if restoring a private manor to its former grandeur is for you, get in touch. I can't wait to show you around.
