1. Slylooking - rusty-red, with a thick tail, neat legs and black pricking ears.
Foursquare - plain shaggy black and white.
2. I think he is called Slylooking because he is quite sly when making plans and this always benefits him. He wanted the job for a different reason than Foursquare. - This is your child's opinion on why they think he is called this.

3. Slylooking asked Rabbit to dig him a hole so that he can go into the hen house and eat the hens. He would then blame this on Rabbit so that he could get the job with Man.
4. Man employed Slylooking to protect the farm because he thinks he caught Rabbit harming his hens. Man has been tricked by Slylooking.
5. Slylooking loses his taste for cabbages because he now prefers eating hens,
6. Slylooking plans on framing Foursquare for eating the hens.
7. I think Foursquare is a dog because he likes to sit by the fire, he has a black and white coat (like a sheep dog) and is very gullible.
8. Your child may want to write something along the lines of this:

Dear Man and Foursquare,

I am awfully sorry for eating the hens and framing Foursquare. I was just trying to find a place to live and have a purpose in life

I am also sorry for framing Rabbit. I only made him dig into the hen house so I would look like a hero for catching the villain. I know this doesn't bring rabbit back but I hope you can understand my motives.

Finally, I am sorry for running off instead of apologising. I was worried you would shoot me with your gun! I am just trying to get by and live my life!

Love, Fox
